

CAMPUS COMPASS

The Unofficial Amrita Amaravati Handbook

Everything you need to know before your first day.
Written by seniors who walked the path before you.

— IF YOU REMEMBER ONLY FIVE THINGS

Five Rules That Will Define Your First Year

- 01 Attendance below 75% is dangerous.
FA is real. It can bar you from exams entirely.
- 02 Join clubs during induction month.
Month 1 is when recruitments happen. Miss it, miss out.
- 03 Start projects in Semester 1.
CGPA alone is not enough. Build a portfolio early.
- 04 Protect your CGPA early.
First semester is the easiest time to score high.
- 05 Build friendships outside your branch.
Your network shapes your opportunities.

— YOUR FIRST 30 DAYS

A Week-by-Week Reality Check

WEEK 1Everything feels unfamiliar.

New faces, new rules, new everything — that's completely normal.

WEEK 2You begin recognizing faces.

The campus starts to shrink. Classmates become names.

WEEK 3Campus starts making sense.

You know where things are. A quiet confidence grows.

WEEK 4You stop feeling lost.

This is home now. You just haven't realized it yet.

— COMMUNITIES WORTH EXPLORING

Find Your People

Chakravyuha — The club behind this handbook.

E-Cell — Entrepreneurship & startup culture.

— THINGS WE LEARNED THE HARD WAY

Avoid Our Mistakes

"I'll watch the recording later."

You won't. Attend. Be present every class.

"I'll join clubs next semester."

Most people never do. Join now, during Month 1.

"I'll start projects after first year."

The fastest-growing students start immediately.

"CGPA is all that matters."

Projects and people matter just as much.

— ONE LAST THING

One day you'll walk across campus without checking maps.

You'll know where your classroom is before looking at your schedule.

You'll know where your friends sit during lunch.

You'll know the shortcut back to the hostel.

That's the day you stop feeling like a visitor.

You belong here. See you on campus.
